

CMC Connections

Connecting People

CMC Connections is a specialized database of individuals in CMC's microsystems community who welcome networking opportunities or are looking for collaborators.

Build a Profile – to help people find you

Build your own CMC Connections profile so professionals in our microsystems community can find and contact you:

<https://www.cmc.ca/MyAccount/MyAccount/ConnectionsProfile>

The CMC microsystems community is comprised of individuals from academia (faculty and administrators), industry, and government who are involved in activities that support micro- and nano-scale research in any of these areas: microelectronics, microfluidics, microelectromechanical systems (MEMS), photonics, optoelectronics and embedded systems.

Find People

Start connecting with people who have what you need. Search by research term, tools, technology, people and organizations in CMC Connections.
